“ I loved and still love my Uncle Al. I will truly miss him. I was able to spend his 80th birthday in Las Vegas and have a group of strangers sing happy birthday to him. It was so much fun and I will cherish the memories I have of him. I just wish there were more. RIP Uncle Al

“ My Uncle Al was man who I secretly hoped was my father. He was "the cool uncle," and it was a badge he was proud to wear. I can't even describe the love that he had for his entire extended family, his faith, music and the outdoors. In many ways, he was the type of man that we might all want to aspire to be someday. To say he was a blessing in my life will not even scratch the surface of how loved and admired he was by our family. He was our Patriarch in every sense of the imagination. While I am so glad that he is finally able to rest without pain, all of us who miss him are a little sadder and carry a bit of a burden how to fill an emptiness that was my Uncle Al's kindness and reminder of how much he loved those around him.
