“ Carl, Betty and Tony's visits to Ace were some of my fondest memories while working there. He always brought a ray of sunshine, and a joke or two.
I also enjoyed my visits at their home. He was never without a loss of words and advise. Mostly the correct advice if you listened.
As a master carpenter, many years ago I asked him to make a small church for Scotland UM to collect birthday money, as the one we had was falling apart. He went over and above with a hinged top, painted front door and stained glass windows on the sides. It may seem like a small task to some, but you could feel the dedication and love he put in every detail. It looked very much like Scotland church.
He will be greatly missed, but God's faithful servant is now home.
