“ Bud was more than just your normal salvage yard man. When I was young and still in high school, I got a lot of parts for my old car projects from Bud. He had no real hours of operation, you just had to catch him out there. But once he got to know ya, he'd tell you to drop by the house if he wasn't out. He'd generally let you go look around for whatever you needed. Sometimes he'd even ask you inside and talk for an hour. Being young and low on funds, he was more than reasonable to me. But said once you're out in the world, I'll be charging you more coin lol. Even after that, he was still more than fair. He could be something else at times, but for sure a good man that will missed by many. Lots of time and memories spent out there. -Evan Kinser
