“ My Aunt Doris was always like my Mom. She always remind me of things I would do when I was younger when our families would get together about every weekend. She said I would run like a spit fire all the time.

Our families would have large dinners and afterwards us kids would run back in the house in the front door to grab a piece of chicken off the large platter and run out the back door. The adults would stay inside to chat and us kids would go down under the bridge and talked and played all day long. Those were the good old days ! I am glad I got to visit with her last fall . I asked her if she membered me and she said, why my lands I do you are Shirley . And that was the last time I got to visit her.

Rest in peace My Aunt Doris. Love you !
