“ The Meurer family maintained contact with relatives (related via his mother's family) near Altamont, Illinois over the years. I recall George as a handsome man who carried himself gracefully as one does who is in good shape. He was a good farmer, knowing and respecting the land and all that was around him. He was usually rather reserved but one paid attention when he spoke as one sensed his intelligence, his humor, and graciousness with others. I am sorry to know of George's passing; we are lesser for it.
