“ The Hobson family has been like family to me for many years. There are very few families like the Hobson’s and that is obviously due to the example set by, as I know them, Pop and Mamaw. No matter how you are related or know them you quickly realize how devoted they are to each other and their family. I always enjoyed sitting in their living room and catching up. When Pop would first see me he would often say, “Well look who it is, it’s the liberal.” Mamaw would then roll her eyes and apologize for him. We always had fun joking about the latest debacles in politics. I just will never understand why Pop was so loose with money though?? Pop was a Marine and rule follower. This was never more evident than his close adherence to the DNR laws. It went like this, “I feed em, and I’ll eat em.” The deer at the Hobson Farm are undoubtedly breathing a sigh of relief, but maybe looking for a stray shot from up above! For several years I have gone over to the Hobson Farm for opening day of deer season and it is like a vacation for me. A few years ago I shot a small buck and struggled dragging it out the woods. I finally went up to the house and told Pop and Mamaw I shot it and Pop DID NOT believe me because I never would , “pull the trigger” as he would say. Mamaw said I think he’s telling the truth and Pop bought in and helped me drag it with it with the 4-wheeler. He should have gotten the life-saving award for that! Although it won’t quite be the same he will never leave there. Those who knew him best will live through him and Mamaw in more ways than they know. All the tremendous attributes. Those of the greatest generation. A generation who valued their faith, their community, and family. They are examples for us all to live by. Pop was a tremendous man in so many ways. We were truly blessed to have him with us for so long. May God bless him and the entire Hobson family now and forever.
