“Kenny was a faithful member and participant in the Presbyterian Church in Bloomfield while I was Interim Pastor from 2014-2016. Always cheerful, always with a good word for others, he had a rare sense of humor, and always had something encouraging to say after the service. He also cared deeply about his church and community, and didn't hesitate to say if he thought there was some need for change or improvement. His faithfulness extended to the loving care he showed for his wife Mae. She was always uppermost in his mind, and he loved her to the end. It will be hard to imagine that congregation without his strong presence, but he would want us all to carry on and be faithful, as he was. "Good and faithful servant" are the words he deserves and will receive from his Savior, Jesus Christ. To his family and friends, we extend our deep sympathy and condolences. -- Timothy Jessen, Bloomington, Indiana
