“ Marylou was in my life since I was very little. I have so many wonderful memories of the quilts, afghans', and other items she made for me. She was always willing to open her home to any of us girls as long as we needed. On the lighter side of memories I include Delena and my sister Debbie. We all managed to keep things interesting. Such as the time I taught Delena to shave her legs at around age 10 or 12. Marylou was not happy about that one. So many of the high school and college friends felt comfortable being in her home. I was going to IU in Bloomington and was there almost every Sunday for dinner and laundry. She sure did love to iron clothes. Her lime pickles were one of the favorite things to watch her make. It showed great patience to me. Marylou never failed to make me Red Velvet cake on my birthday. It was so good. Later in life she was always helping out in anyway she could to people in need.

Love your granddaughter,
