“ I sat on Facebook tonight, playing games, commenting on posts, and reposting funny stuff as usual. Then tonight, a couple of mutual friends clicked Like on a couple of old pictures from your account. Of course these pictures then show up in my newsfeed because and action happened on them and my heart skips a couple of beats thinking "Tasha is online, this was all a dream"! Then once again the reality sets back in and another tear is shed! You are missed Sweet, every single day!

“ Years ago I met you and you seemed nice. Then many years went by and I met up with you again and I was struck by the change I seen. After that it was a mixture of see you, talk to you, not see you and not talk to you as our lives went their own paths. However I always kept you in the back of my thoughts even when we were not talking regularly. It is so strange now that you have been gone for a little over 2 months, I feel like slowly losing my mind wanting to talk to you again!

“ Man sis yesterday was so awesome .. I only hoped u seen all ur freinds an family there for u .. I tryed to stay so strong an stand so tall when all I wanted was to hold u in my arms .. No words can ever discribe how I felt .. All at the grave site I waited till the shoveling was completed an left u to peace I know gramy and grampy r watching over u safely! I hope ur flash light forever shines bright so u can find ur way back threow day or night we all love an miss u 💋😇🔪

“ Tasha, for days I have been trying to think of the right thing to say here and nothing seemed enough! Today, you were laid to rest gone from this earthly body and realm! I spoke to some in your family and many of your friends but found I could only express the standard simple platitudes. I managed to remain steady until we had begun the procession to your grave site. I almost had to pull out of the procession for some tears began to flow as they do now as I type this message. I find myself still in total disbelief that you are gone, I keep having thoughts that this is just a horrible nightmare that I will awake from in the morning. All I can really say is I Love You, and you will remain in my heart, for as long as I live! Goodbye dear friend! <3

“ She was such a free spirt and a great caring soul a good bigger sister and a loving mother she will be missed but god has taken a great soul and turned her into an angel in heaven she will rest with her husband and aunt and uncle which she has missed so much. I love u Natasha kaa and my most favorite memory was when we was kids and was told to go to bed we would stay up in our beds building forts and telling make believe stories up and rubbing lotion on each others back and guessing the drawing we had done on our backs with the lotion and how we would pretend to have space shuttles and we was astronauts going to Mars or the moon those are my greatest child hood memories with my older sister we've been through alot of good times I love u sister and there won't be a day I won't forget u fly high sis and keep the rest of us here safe 🙏
