

Sharon Roudebush

March 28, 1939 - October 5, 2025

Sharon Roudebush, born on March 28, 1939 in Newberry Indiana, left this world on October 5, 2025. A devoted wife, mother, sister, grandmother, great grandmother and aunt, her life was a testament to her unwavering love for her family and her work.

Through the dedication to the family construction and farm businesses, Sharon was essential in the formation and growing of these entities. Her dedication to the businesses made it possible for both of these to grow exponentially. These efforts were matched only by her deep sense of responsibility to those around her, ensuring not just the success of the businesses but nurturing the lives of everyone around her.

Sharon's dynamic personality radiated through everything she did. She found joy in being busy. She loved being outdoors, working with animals, and in her later years, dancing, making jokes with her friends, eating ice cream and spending time with her sisters, brother and other family members.

She is survived by her husband, Charles Roudebush; her loving daughter, Beth (Jack) Terrell; daughter Amy (David) Jahnke; adoring sisters, Pat Dhahir and Amanda (Larry) Sullivan; adoring brother, Kerry Hasler; along with her cherished grandchildren and great - grandchildren. Her gifts of love, forgiveness, determination, and work ethic will live on through her family.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Frank Dexter and Mary Jane Canada Hasler and brother Max (Elizabeth) Hasler.

A celebration will be scheduled in the near future.

Even though she has gone to the Lord, we will cherish her in our hearts and remember her as she was - her impact and spirit live through everyone who really loved her.
