“ It don't feel right without my friend to talk to. The holidays are coming and this is the first time we won't be seeing who calls who first to wish them a happy holiday. I just wish his family the best. And my heart goes out to them through these tough times they are going to go through.

“ Brad,
I am sorry to hear about the loss of your brother. You will have wonderful memories of him and times of great emptiness. There is great sadness today; however, the memories show us the purpose here. I know too well the void you and your family will experience not only today, but each and every day forward. I will add you and your family to my prayer list that you continue to be blessed with strength to endure this loss. May God keep you in the palm of his hand.
God Bless Each of You

“ *Brad, Kathy and Family, Brad and Kathy you are dear friends and even though we are unable to be there in body at your time of need, know that you and your family are in our hearts, thoughts, and prayers.
Know that Our Lord has only separated us for a short time and that we will be joined together soon with no pain - no sickness - only Happines..

“ *Lisa,
I will never forget the kindness you and Tim showed me the first time I met you. You both welcomed me with open arms. You made me feel like family right from the beginning. We will both miss Tim very much. Let God keep you in his loving arms and lean on him during this difficult time. We will all be together again some day. We love you.

“ *Lisa:
You and Tim will always be "special" to me. You and Tim made me feel like "family" from the first time I met you both. I remember our first Christmas shopping experience and all the times that Tim helped us do things around our house. We are family and we will be there for you and the boys. Tim is in a better place and no longer suffering. May God keep you and the boys in his loving arms. Lean on him during this difficult time. We love you..

“ Lisa,
When I first came in to the Helm's family, you and Tim treated me like I was "one of your own". Your kindness and making me feel welcome is something I will never forget. You and Tim will always have a special place in my heart. Tim was always there to help Brad and me out. Tim was a very special "brother in law". We will miss him greatly but we know we will see him again. We are family and we are here for you and the boys. We love you.
